

Research Seminar in Economics
Program of the Winter Term 2018/19

- Oct 23 Ian King, The University of Queensland
Secret Search
- Oct 30 Keith Kuester, University of Bonn
The dark side of low(er) interest rates
- Michael Evers, University of Hohenheim
- Nov 06 Solving Nonlinear Expectations Models by Approximating the Stochastic
Equilibrium System
- Nov 13 Jens Wrona, Düsseldorf Institute for Competition Economics
Inter-city Trade
- Matthias Lücke, IfW Kiel
- Nov 20 Reforming the EU asylum system: Centralization and flexible solidarity between EU member states
- Dec 04 Michael Weber, The University of Chicago Booth School of Business
Human Frictions in the Transmission of Economic Policy
- Thomas Mertens, Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco
- Dec 11 What to Expect from the Lower Bound on Interest Rates: Evidence from Derivatives Prices
- Luca Macedoni, Aarhus University
- Jan 08 Quality Heterogeneity and Misallocation: The Welfare Benefits of Raising your Standards
- Jan 15 Udo Kreickemeier, Georg-August-Universität Göttingen
Exporting and Offshoring with Monopsonistic Competition
- Jan 22 Sebastian Krautheim, University of Passau
The International Organization of Production in the Regulatory Void
- Jan 29 Michael Funke, University of Hamburg
Out of Sync Subnational Housing Markets and Macroprudential Policies
- Feb 05 Werner Güth, LUISS Rom
Bounded Rationality: Its Theoretical Foundation and Experimental Evidence