The Faculty of Protestant Theology at the University of Tübingen

is seeking a

Professor (W3) of Systematic Theology

with a focus on Dogmatic Theology available immediately.

The successful candidate will represent a broad spectrum of the discipline of Systematic Theology. A focus in the field of material dogmatics is expected. The ability and willingness to engage in intercultural, ecumenical and inter-religious dialogue is required. She/He will direct the Institute of Hermeneutics and Dialogue between Cultures.

Formal requirements for appointment are the Habilitation or equivalent postdoctoral qualification in the discipline of Systematic Theology, as well as proven teaching aptitude.

Tübingen University is particularly interested in applications from female candidates for this position and therefore strongly encourages women to apply.

In line with its internationalization agenda, the university welcomes applications from researchers outside Germany.

Applications from disabled candidates will be given preference if the qualifications of these candidates are identical to those of a non-disabled candidate.

Send your application together with the required documents (curriculum vitae and outline of academic career, copies of certificates and degrees, publications list, list of teaching experience, overview of core research areas) to the Dean of Protestant Theology, Liebermeisterstrasse 12, 72076 Tübingen, GERMANY, ev.theologie@uni-tuebingen.de by 12.10.2018.