Research Cooperation with Doshisha University in Kyoto

Faculty Exchange Program

On 24 October 2018 the President of Doshisha University, Professor Takashi Matsuoka, and the President of the University of Tübingen, Professor Bernd Engler, signed a Faculty Exchange Agreement between Doshisha University in Kyoto and the University of Tübingen. The Agreement comprises long-term and short-term research stays on both sides.

Doshisha University plans to offer short-term stays with a duration of up to 3 months and long-term stays of up to 12 months. The University of Tübingen plans to offer short-term stays with a duration of up to 3 months and long-term stays of up to 6 months. Long-term stays of researchers from the University of Tübingen should take place during their sabbatical. Candidates should ensure that cover for their teaching load has been arranged for their period of absence.

The host University will cover the accommodation costs for researchers in their respective cities, the sending University will cover the international flight- and transfer costs. Costs per diem for short term stays will be reimbursed.

Each university will offer funding for one long and one short-term stay per year. In the case of long-term stays in Tübingen, two stays of up to six months will be offered.

Applications for the Faculty Exchange Program with Doshisha University are accepted from now on. For research stays in 2019 applications can be made at any time. For research stays in 2020, the deadline is 15 October 2019.
