WHAT DO WE STILL KNOW?

KNOWING AND FORGETTING IN TIMES OF THREAT

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE BEDROHTE ORDNUNGEN IV
28.–30.06.2018 – Evangelisches Stift, Großer Hörsaal – Klosterberg 2, Tübingen

EMOTIONS AND SPACES OF ACTION

17.15-19.00
Panel III: Too Much To Know? Knowledge and Emotions
Daniel Menning (Tübingen): Emotions and Crashes. Stock Trading in America around 1900
Susan M. Matt (Ogden): Neurastenia, Emotional Exhaustion, and the Problem of Too Much Knowledge in America
Joseph Ben Prestel (Berlin): Dangerous Excitement: Debates about Emotions in the Entertainment Districts of Berlin and Cairo, 1880-1910

29.06.2018
09.00-10.45
Simon Teune (Berlin): Emotions and Crashes. Stock Trading in America around 1900
Susan J. Matt (Ogden): Neurastenia, Emotional Exhaustion, and the Problem of Too Much Knowledge in America
Joseph Ben Prestel (Berlin): Dangerous Excitement: Debates about Emotions in the Entertainment Districts of Berlin and Cairo, 1880-1910

Empires and the Precariousness of Knowledge

14.15-16.00
Panel VI: Precarious Knowledge in the Carolingian Empire
Carrie van Rhijn (Utrecht): Precarious Knowledge in Times of Reform: The Case of Prognostics in the Carolingian Period
Warren Pezé (Paris-Créteil): Knowledge and Violence in the Reign of Charles the Bald (840-877)
Irene van Renswoude (Utrecht): Contested Knowledge. Negotiating Bans and Prohibitions

16.30-17.30 – Tübingen Castle
University Collections: Topographies of Knowledge and Forgetting – Gabrielle Alex/Monique Scheer (Tübingen)

30.06.2018
09.00-10.45
Panel VII: Memoria and Anti-Memoria in Postcolonial and Postimperial Societies
John Darwin (Oxford): Which Empire? Whose Empire? Remembering and Forgetting Britain’s Imperial Past
Katharina Schramm (Bayreuth): Of Laiden Memories and Partial Truths: Addressing the History of Slavery in Postcolonial Ghana
Sebastian Koch (Tübingen): Biculturalism, Multiculturalism and Indigeneity as a Strategy of Memoria. Canada and Australia Defining Themselves in Times of Threatened Orders

11.15-12.45
Keynote II – Martin Mulsow (Erfurt): Global Encounters – Precarious Knowledge: Traces of Alchemy in Batavia

13.30-14.30
Mischa Meier (Tübingen): Comment & Discussion