Course Requirements
Please note that for most courses there are special eligibility requirements which are determined by the departments. Application to exchange program does not guarantee any course registration. Law students need to have studied at least 120 credits of law or related areas in order to take law courses. 120 credits are equivalent to two years of full-time studies.

Course restrictions:
No courses are offered by the Stockholm Business School the fall semester 2021. When offered, Stockholm Business School only confirms admittance to their courses shortly before the semester starts.

No courses are offered by the Department of Special Pedagogy for the spring semester 2022.

Popular departments with limited vacancies:
Department of Law
Department of Sociology
Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics (DBB)
Department of Environmental Science and Analytical Chemistry (ACES)
Students should be flexible in their course selection.

Swedish Language Course
Swedish language courses, on different levels, are offered for free by the Department of Swedish Language and Multilingualism to all incoming exchange students su.se/studyswedish. Information about the language courses is available on the link provided.

Language requirements:
Incoming exchange students whose first language is not English must provide evidence that their English language ability meets the minimum requirements for admission. Students from the Nordic countries or Civis network do not need to take any other test than the Erasmus Online Linguistic Support test unless specifically required by the department.
IELTS: 6.0 overall with at least 5.5 in each of the four components.
TOEFL: PBT 550, iBT 79.

Students who want to take classes taught in Swedish might need to hand in a language certificate. This will be decided by the respective department.

Registration to Courses
Registration for courses are done at each department and all necessary information will be sent to the students prior to course start.

Transcript of Records
Students will be able to create their digital Transcripts of records once all the grades are set in the records in the end of the semester. Information will be given at the end of semester.
