

Alienness, Belonging, and Mobility Control in a Global Perspective, c. 1750-1900

25-27 April 2024, Tübingen, Germany

Venue: University of Tübingen, Schloss Hohentübingen, Fürstenzimmer

Workshop Program

Convenors: Jan C. Jansen & Sophie Rose

Organizational support by Mechthild Kaiser

This workshop is financed by the German Research Foundation (DFG), through the research project 'Ambiguity and Disambiguation of Belonging – The Regulation of Alienness in the Caribbean during the Revolutionary Era (1780s–1820s)', in collaboration with the ERC-funded project 'Atlantic Exiles - Refugees and Revolution in the Atlantic World, 1770s–1820s' (grant agreement no. 149189)

Please note: all times indicated in the program are CEST.

Thursday, 25 April 2024

13:30-15:15 Words of Welcome and Session 1 – ‘Borderlands, travel, and trade’

Chair: Jan C. Jansen

Comments: Sascha Auerbach, Münevver Hatipoglu

Manjeet Baruah. A Frontier Kingdom in the Mercantilist Era: The Kingdom of Assam and the Mobilities of a French Merchant in the 1750s. (Comment: Hatipoglu)

Benoit Vaillot. Of Animals and Humans: Controlling Animal Mobilities at the French-German Border (1871-1914). (Comment: Auerbach)

16:00-18:30 Session 2 - ‘Registration and documentation’

Chair: Thomas Mareite

Comments: Martin Biersack, Michael Schoeppner, Manjeet Baruah

Christine Mertens. Registration, Freedom, and Undocumentedness in Early Antebellum Virginia, 1790s-1830s. (Comment: Biersack)

Sophie Rose. Aliens, revolutionary war, and the administrative revolution: a view from the Dutch Caribbean, 1780-1820. (Comment: Schoeppner)

Cristina Soriano. Island Interrupted: The Impact of French and Caribbean Revolutions in the Island of Trinidad (1790 – 1797). (Comment: Baruah)

***

Friday, April 26 2024

9:30-12:00 Session 3 – ‘Subjecthood and agency’

Chair: Sophie Rose

Comments: Andreas Fahrmeir, Jan Jansen, Benoit Vaillot

Matilde Flamigni. Projecting Protection: British Anti-slavery and Slave Trade Abolition in the Caribbean Trans-imperial Space (1824-1867). (Comment: Fahrmeir)

Noureddine Amara. Cannibalizing the French Nationality: petitioning the state, writing the self (Short research note). (Comment: Jansen)

Münevver Hatipoğlu. Sovereignty and Subjecthood in the Borderlands: Administering Contested Regions During the Russo-Ottoman War, 1877-1878. (Comment: Vaillot)

13:30-15:15 Session 4 – ‘Labor, migration, and health’

Chair: Jannik Keindorf

Comments: Moritz Florin, Cristina Soriano, Sophie Rose

Marjolein Schepers. Between lovers, suspect houses and walking the streets: migration and sex work in late 19th-century Antwerp. (Comment: Florin)

Sascha Auerbach. “Maladies of Human Nature”: Medical Authority, Slavery, and the Origins of Public Health in the early 19th c. British Caribbean (Comment: Soriano)

15:45-17:30 Session 5 - ‘Security’

Chair: Ruby Guyot

Comments: Marjolein Schepers, Noureddine Amara

Martin Biersack. The impact of Security on the Colonial Migration Regime in the Age of the Atlantic Revolution. (Comment: Schepers)

Moritz Florin. Stoking fear. The Russian Empire’s attempt to manipulate transnational debates on Jewish migration, 1881-1914. (Comment: Amara)

***

Saturday, 27 April 2024

9:30-11:15 Session 6 - 'Race and alienness'

Chair: Sophie Rose

Comments: Christine Mertens and Matilde Flamigni

Michael Schoepner. Blackness and Border Control in Antebellum Kentucky.
(Comment: Mertens)

Jan C. Jansen. Alien Laws in the Age of Emancipation: The British Caribbean, 1820s–1830s. (Comment: Flamigni)

11-30-13.00: Closing discussion

Chair: Jan C. Jansen

Comments: Andreas Fahrmeir

