The Pluriverse: Challenges of Post-Developmentalist Thought for Global South Studies

The multiple crises created by the current dynamics of globalization have called the concepts such as development, progress and modernization into question. In the face of such scenario, pluriversal thinking offers a radical "alternative for thinking alternatives" to Western hegemony (Boaventura de Sousa Santos: 2014).

Towards this aim, the 2022 CIVIS School "North-South Encounters" encourages to engage in the ongoing debates in academia, activism and cultural production that focus on the Pluriverse as a methodological and theoretical framework that has emerged in the context of post-developmental thought and epistemologies of the South.

Looking for "a world into which many worlds fit", we follow Arturo Escobar's invitation to develop a capacity to design alternative worlds that challenge globalization's drive to homogenize what is diverse in principle. Thus, we take up the provoking impetus of new political ontologies, indigenous notions of the good living and calls for cognitive justice.

In accordance with the way which Global South studies address issues of globalization in a comparative and transdisciplinary perspective, the CIVIS school will combine theoretical debates with scholars from the CIVIS network (from Europe and Africa), alongside colleagues from Asia-Pacific and Latin America, with a dialogue between academia, art, and political activism.
