[1] Tübingen Castle

Once you have gone past the gate and through the arched entrance into the courtyard of the castle, head towards the distant corner on the left. Here you will find the entrance to the Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology. Enter the castle and climb up the stairs to the 2nd floor. Go through the door on the left and walk along the external corridor. Go through the first door on your right. The first door on your left then leads to the “Fürstenzimmer”.

Approach

Arriving by plane:

International guests are recommended to arrive via Stuttgart Airport (IATA code STR). The airport is about 30 km from the city centre of Tübingen. The journey by car takes about half an hour under normal traffic conditions. In addition, there is a direct bus line 828 (Airport Sprinter). The journey by bus takes about one hour. Exit at “Nonnenhaus” and a 15 minute walk through the city brings you to the castle.

Arriving by train:

Within Germany and parts of Western Europe it is recommended to travel by train via Stuttgart. Stuttgart's main station is connected to the European high-speed rail network and is served by both ICE trains of Deutsche Bahn and French TGV. The onward journey from Stuttgart to Tübingen takes place with local trains of Deutsche Bahn. The journey takes about one hour. From Tübingen main station it's a 20 minute walk to the castle.

Arriving by bus:

As a typical student city, Tübingen is connected to a large number of cities by long-distance buses. Within Tübingen, local buses take over public transport. The best bus stations to reach Tübingen castle are “Neckarbrücke” and “Nonnenhaus” (a 15 minute walk through the historical city and you've reached the castle).

Arriving by car:

Tübingen is easily accessible by car via various freeways. The four-lane Bundesstraße 27 leads directly from the Autobahn 8 at Stuttgart Messe to Tübingen. Road users on the Autobahn 81 take the Herrenberg exit coming from the north and the Rottenburg exit coming from the south. From Herrenberg the Bundesstraße 296 leads to Tübingen. From the Rottenburg exit, take the Bundesstraße 28 as well as state roads. From the car parks “Altstadt-Mitte/Stadtgraben” or “Neckar-Parkhaus” you'll have a 15 minute walk to the castle.
