

attempto online: Information for authors

“attempto online” (www.uni-tuebingen.de/de/58851) is the University of Tübingen information portal containing current news and reports from all areas across the University. Items in it are written by employees of the faculties, institutes, or other institutions. You can suggest an item by writing to ord@uni-tuebingen.de.

Any employee of the University of Tübingen is eligible to write items for attempto online. But you must clear anything you send us beforehand with the management of your institution.

Subjects may include: Reports on conferences, new collaborations or joint research projects, new guest researchers, reports on excursions, new services on offer for employees, honors and awards, and obituaries.

Announcements of upcoming events do not go onto attempto online. Upcoming events are registered in the centralized calendar (<http://www.uni-tuebingen.de/aktuelles/veranstaltungskalender.html>).

Guidelines for submissions:

- Length: at least 1,000 characters (including spaces)
- The full name of the author and exact name of the institute or institution must be listed at the end of the submission.
- Provide a picture if you can in landscape format. Send it separately as a jpg or png file with a width of at least 900 pixels width and a resolution of 72dpi. Ensure that you are not violating copyrights! You must include a caption and the source of the image.

The online editors reserve the right to rework submissions or in some cases to reject them outright.
