

RSIT Brown Bag Seminar
Program of the Winter Term 2022/2023

Oct 25 Giacomo Brusco, University of Tübingen and RSIT
€2 Gas! Tax holidays, incidence heterogeneity and market power

Nov 08 Tobias Brändle, IAW
Evaluation of the reform of the temporary agency work act

Nov 15 Sean Mc Auliffe, University of Tübingen and RSIT
Corporate taxation and the regional quality of governance in the EU: Decomposing the gap between statutory and empirical tax rates

Nov 22 Alessandro Ruggieri, University of Nottingham
Taxes, informality and development

Nov 29 Camila Cisneros, University of Tübingen and RSIT
Social spending and immigrants

Dec 06 Svea Holtmann, KU Ingolstadt and RSIT
Corporate taxation & firm performance

Dec 13 Natalie Laub, IAW
Heterogeneous effects of pension reforms

Jan 10 Peter Eppinger, University of Tübingen
Shock transmission in multinational firm networks (The seminar takes place in room E 03)

Jan 17 Max Löffler, Maastricht University
Fiscal and economic effects of local austerity

Jan 24 Jaqueline Hansen, University of Tübingen and RSIT
The Role of centres for internal capital markets

Jan 31 Li Haishi, HKU Business School
We Are All in the Same Boat: Cross-Border Spillovers of Climate Shocks Through International Trade and Supply Chain

Feb 07 (12:00-12:30) Jaqueline Hansen, University of Tübingen
The Role of Financial Centres for Internal Capital Markets

Feb 07 (12:30-13:00) Johanna Paraknewitz, University of Tübingen and RSIT

Double counting of dividend income in unconsolidated financial statement data: On the role of ownership structures and implications for profit shifting estimates