

The Bachelor Programme General Linguistics

■ Basic and Methodological Modules impart basic knowledge and methodological fundamentals

■ Fundamental Modules

impart fundamental knowledge about the central areas in linguistics

■ Specialisation Modules

deepen professional and methodological knowledge and give an insight about current research topics

In the main subject, modules for 99 ECTS-credits have to be completed. Additionally, 21 credit points must be earned through interdisciplinary, field-oriented competences. Together with the 60 credit points of the minor subject, the BA-major programme is worth 180 ECTS- credit points.

In the minor subject, modules for 60 ECTS-credit points have to be completed. Here, all basic and methodological modules as well as all fundamental modules must be completed. By choosing an advanced seminar from the specialisation modules, an insight about further topics is provided.
