

Tübingen Korean Studies Lectures

튀빙겐 한국학 특강

New Letter-Drawing and Quadro-Syllabic Idioms

Prof. em. Sang-Oak Lee
Seoul National University, Korea

July 5, 2017 (Wednesday) | 6:00-8:00 PM
Wilhelmstraße 133 | Room 30

Sang-Oak Lee is Professor Emeritus of Korean Linguistics at Seoul National University and also taught at the University of Sydney (1994-97). In 1973 as a Fulbright-Hays grantee he entered the University of Illinois at Urbana, and received his Ph.D. in 1978. He moved to Cambridge, Massachusetts, to serve as a Research Fellow in the Harvard-Yenching Institute for two years. He was also a grantee of Humboldt Fellowship during the years of 1985 and 1986 at Munich University, and in 2003 at Technical University of Berlin. He is interested in phonetics, phonology, morphology, and quantitative linguistics. He has engaged in Korean language instruction to foreign students from 1969 to date. He has published a dissertation entitled 'Middle Korean Tonology', 1979, and a textbook with the title "Standard Korean for Japanese" (in Japanese) in Tokyo, 1974, and a series of textbooks entitled "Korean Through English", 1990 (in English), 1993 (in Chinese), 1994 (in Japanese), 1995 (in Russian), 1996 (in Spanish), 1997 (in French) and many others.