

Department of Indology and Comparative Religion

Paper & Pixel

International Summer School on Digital Humanities in Indology

22.-27.07.2014

Department of Indology & University Library, Tübingen

22.07.2014

Schulungsraum, Wilhelmstr. 32 (University Library)

Digitization, standards and practices for different materials

10.00-10.45: Marianne Dörr (University Library, Tübingen)

10.45-11.30: Fabian Schwabe (eScience Centre, Tübingen)

11.30-12.00: coffee break

Digital Humanities infrastructures – opportunities for Indology

12.00-12.30: Peter Gietz (DAASI International GmbH)

The Digital Corpus of Sanskrit: Background and research application

12.30-13.00: Oliver Hellwig (University of Heidelberg)

Designing specialized databases for Indological studies

13.00-13.30: Anand Mishra (University of Heidelberg)

13.30-15.30: lunch break

E-learning-Support-Center, Wilhelmstr. 50 (Brechtbau)

Workshop: “How would the best possible Virtual Research Environment for Indologists look like?”

15.30-17.00: Peter Gietz, Oliver Hellwig, Anand Mishra

23.07.2014

Schulungsraum, Wilhelmstr. 32 (University Library)

Text processing and encoding: Indology and computer philology

10.00-10.45: Matthias Ahlborn (University of Würzburg)

The Wicked Spell of Angle Brackets: The Sanskrit Manuscript Project, Cambridge

10.45-11.30: Camillo Formigatti (University of Cambridge)

11.30-12.00: coffee break

E-learning-Support-Center, Wilhelmstr. 50 (Brechtbau)

Practical exercise: manuscripts and XML language

12.00-13.30: Camillo Formigatti (University of Cambridge)

13.30-15.30: lunch

24.07.2014: Projects of Tübingen University

Schulungsraum, Wilhelmstr. 32 (University Library)

The Epigraphia Carnatica – “recourse” pool for historians:

A digitization project of the University Library of Tübingen

10.00-11.00: Cristina Bignami & Elena Mucciarelli

The Gundert Legacy in the University Library of Tübingen:

The development of the Malayalam script and language

11.00-12.00: Heike Oberlin

12.00-12.30: coffee break

Urdu-Hindi Talking Literary Archive: “Saath-Saath”, Department of Indology Tübingen

12.30-13.30: Divyaraj Amiya & Satyendra Singh

13.30-15.30 lunch break

Visit of the Tübingen University Library

15.30-17.00: Manuscript section, eScience Center, Dept. of Digitization

25.07.2014

Schulungsraum, Wilhelmstr. 32 (University Library)

Development and palaeographic peculiarities of the Grantha script

10.00-11.30: Saraju Rath (IIAS, University of Leiden)

11.30-12.00: coffee break

Selected readings in Indian collections of Grantha manuscripts

12.00-13.30: Saraju Rath (IIAS, University of Leiden)

13.30-15.30: lunch break

E-learning-Support-Center, Wilhelmstr. 50 (Brechtbau)

Workshop: Practical discussion & exercises on Grantha script

15.30-17.00: Saraju Rath (IIAS, University of Leiden)

26.07.2014: 10.00-12.00 & 15.00-17.00 – 27.07.2014: 10.00-13.00 – Indology Department, Gartenstr. 19

Workshop: Practical seminar on Malayalam palm-leaf manuscripts

Heike Oberlin (University of Tübingen)

Participation is open to students and scholars. Please contact Elena Mucciarelli elena.mucciarelli@indo.uni-tuebingen.de

Supported by the Institutional Strategy of the University of Tuebingen (DFG, ZUK 63)