Invitation to the GRK 2381 Conference CanCaN 2021

Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the Research Training Group 2381 (GRK 2381: "cGMP: From Bedside to Bench") at the University of Tübingen, we are pleased to invite you to participate in:

CanCaN 2021,

the 1st PhD Student Conference of the GRK 2381 on cancer, cardiovascular diseases, and neurological disorders, which will take place on November 17th to 19th 2021 in Tübingen.

CanCaN 2021 aims to provide an interdisciplinary platform for young scientists from all around the world to learn from experts in different fields and discuss their current research. The conference will include various topics such as cGMP signaling, cancer and immunology, cardiovascular research, neuroscience, and pharmacology and biotechnology.

In addition to the international speakers we invited to create an interesting and diverse main program, we would like to encourage young scientists to present their research. If you are interested to contribute to the conference by submitting an abstract about your current research, please check out our website for more information.

We are delighted to announce, that CanCaN 2021 will be held as a hybrid event, with the opportunity for an in-person as well as an online audience to join. So, get your tickets now!

We are looking forward to welcoming you in Tübingen this fall!

Best regards,

The GRK 2381 Conference Team
