(hereinafter: Master's program) is a research-oriented program following on from a six- or seven-semester Bachelor's degree at the University of Tübingen's Department of Business and Economics. ²The Master's program allows students to obtain long-term academic qualifications aimed at obtaining and increasing knowledge in a systematic and critical way, and justifying a general academically-based occupational qualification for students in economics fields; building upon a first degree in the field. ³The Master's program encompasses the teaching of in-depth theoretical and methodical research-oriented knowledge in the field of business strategy. ⁴The goals to be met are set out in the module handbook.

(2) ¹The regular duration of study in the Master's program is set out in § 1 (5) of the General Provisions of these exam regulations. ²A total of 90 ECTS credit points must be obtained to successfully complete this Master's degree program. ³The start of the program (winter or summer semester) is set out in the regulations governing admission and enrollment at the University of Tübingen, as amended.

(3) ¹A prerequisite for enrollment in this Master's program is a Bachelor's degree in the subject of Business/ Economics or an equivalent degree graded "good" (usually with a grade of 2.5 or better). ²The board of examiners will decide on the equivalency of a degree and on whether the prerequisite in item 1 above has been met. ³The board may transfer this decision revocably to the head of the board. ⁴If there is a set number for admission, the articles may specify that the selection committee formed for the relevant selection process decides instead.

(4) ¹To take part in the Master's program, applicants must also document that a knowledge of English of at least at the level of B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). ²For the requirement in item 1 above, paragraph (3) items 2-4 apply accordingly.

(5) ¹For studies in this Master's program, applicants must additionally document, for example with their first higher education degree, advanced knowledge of

1. Quantitative methods of economics, and
2. Microeconomics.

²For the requirement in item 1 above, paragraph (3) items 2-4 apply accordingly.

§ 3 Structure

(1) ¹The Master's program is structured over one and a half years. ²It concludes with the Master's examination.

(2) ¹Students complete a program of 90 ECTS credit points; the program consists of the following modules:

Recommend- ed semester	Module description	ECTS cred- its		Total
1-3	Core Studies	27		90
	Specialization Studies	9-24	24
	Elective Studies	0-15	cf. § 3 (5, 6)
	Module: Selected Issues in Managerial Economics	6
	Module: Advanced Topics in Management and Economics	9
	Master Thesis in Management and Economics	24

(3) ¹The program is divided into the modules in Core Studies, Specialization Studies, Elective Studies, the Selected Issues in Managerial Economics module, the Advanced Topics in Management and Economics module, and the Master's thesis in Management and Economics module.

(4) ¹The Core Studies modules teach knowledge necessary for advanced academic training in the area of Management and Economics. ²A total of 27 ECTS credits must be obtained from Core Studies. ³The Core Studies modules are to be completed in the first year of study. ⁴The guidelines on Core Studies modules are set out in the module handbook.

(5) ¹The Specialization Studies modules focus on issues in Management and Economics. ²Admission to individual classes within the Specialization Studies and Elective Studies modules may be made dependent on regular and successful participation in other classes. ³At least 9 and a maximum of 24 ECTS credits in total must be obtained from Specialization Studies modules. ⁵The guidelines on Specialization Studies modules are set out in the module handbook.

(6) ¹The Elective Studies modules aim to give students greater in-depth knowledge in core areas, which they can choose themselves. ²A total of 15 ECTS credits must be obtained from Elective Studies modules. ³Which classes belong to which Elective Studies modules is set out in the module handbook.

⁷Failed attempts at a class will be counted even if that class is taken again as part of another module or part-module or in another area (Core Studies / Specialization Studies/ Elective Studies / Selected Issues in Managerial Economics/ Advanced Topics in Management and Economics). ²Classes which a student has already successfully completed may not be taken again as part of another module or part-module, or in another area (Core Studies/ Specialization Studies /Elective Studies / Selected Issues in Managerial Economics/ Advanced Topics in Management and Economics).

(8) ¹The Master's thesis is to be written and completed in the third semester. ²It must be supervised by a professor of the Department of Economics at the University of Tübingen and focus on a topic from the field of Management & Economics.

(8) ¹The M. Sc. program in Management and Economics may also be completed with a clearly indicated PhD orientation. ²For the entry "mit PhD-Orientierung" (PhD orientation) to be made on the degree certificate, the following additional requirements must be met:

- a) At least 12 of the ECTS credits obtained outside of Core Studies must have been obtained in modules specified in the module handbook as "PhD oriented."
- and
- b) The writing of a Master's thesis with the potential for publication in a relevant academic journal and for presentation within the framework of an event open to the department. Such potential must be expressly confirmed by both examiners of the thesis.

(9) ¹It is prohibited for students to take, as part of their Master's studies, any module or class which is the same as, or substantially similar to, one they took in their Bachelor's studies; such modules and/or classes may therefore not be selected as part of Master's program studies under these exam regulations, nor be completed under § 3(2). ²In borderline cases and particularly cases in which the content of the modules/ classes overlaps to a large degree, the examination board is to decide on whether the module/ class may be selected/ completed as part of the program. ³The examination board may in individual cases define another appropriate module or class to replace a module or class which is excluded, if otherwise on the basis of these exam regulations and the module handbook there would not be a module yielding the necessary credits for an individual student to complete the program.

II. Teaching of material

§ 4 Types of classes within the modules

¹Classes of the following types in particular may be scheduled:

1. Lectures
2. Seminars
3. Colloquiums, exercises, internships / laboratory practical work, tutorials, excursions.

²For classes which are wholly or largely made up of elements of the types listed in item 1 nos. 2-3 above, participant numbers may be limited under § 30(5)(1) LHG if training could not otherwise be guaranteed in accordance with the regulations or if a limitation is necessary for other reasons of research, teaching or patient care. ³Subject-related techniques in particular are to be taught in these classes along with interdisciplinary, professionally-oriented qualifications. ⁴In addition, students are to have the opportunity to work in small groups to develop the ability to present the knowledge obtained both verbally and in written form. ⁵In addition, within the framework of § 30 (5)(1) LHG the right to participate in classes may be restricted or admission to part of the course may be made dependent on the completion of certain coursework, if training could not otherwise be guaranteed in accordance with the regulations or a limitation is necessary for other reasons of research, teaching or patient care.

§ 5 Languages of instruction and examination

¹English is the language of instruction and examination in this Master's degree program.

²Classes and exams may be held in German; in such cases the degree may be obtained in the parts of the program which are offered in English. ³Exams are usually conducted in the language in which the respective classes were held. ⁴In classes aimed at teaching a language other than German, the teaching and exams may be conducted in the respective other language.

§ 6 Types of assessment

¹The assessed coursework required in each of the modules is set out in the module handbook. ²Elective Studies modules may include classes run by another department; in this case, students may be directed to the module handbook of the respective department.

III. Organization of program

§ 7 Volume of material

The required volume of study is set by the General Provisions of the exam regulations, the structure of the program and the modules - particularly § 3 of the Special Provisions of the exam regulations.

IV. Master's examination and overall grade
