

The University of Tübingen is one of Europe's oldest universities and in recent years has been very successful in the German federal and state governments' Excellence Initiative. The Research Unit Comparative Public Policy at the Institute of Political Science of the University of Tübingen invites applications for

Two Research Officer / Fixed-term Lecturer Posts

(German public sector pay scheme 13 TV-L, 75%)

for the duration of 3 years from 1 October 2019 (or as soon as possible thereafter). Annual salary is commensurate with experience starting from approximately 34.000 Euro. The successful candidates will contribute to the research and teaching portfolio of the Comparative Public Policy Research Unit and will be given the opportunity to pursue a PhD or a Habilitation, depending on prior qualification.

Essential requirements:

- Excellent undergraduate and graduate degree in political science or social policy
- Interest and knowledge of comparative welfare state research and/or European social policy
- Excellent communication, presentation and writing skills in English (German language skills are desirable)
- Excellent intercultural communication skills
- Ability to work both independently and as part of a team

Disabled persons will be preferred in case of equal qualification. The University seeks to raise the number of women in research and teaching and therefore encourages qualified women academics to apply for these positions.

If you are interested in this position, please send your application with the usual documentation (letter of motivation, curriculum vitae, copies of certificates, publication list, etc.) in electronic form (one pdf-file only) to: julia.buchner@uni-tuebingen.de. Deadline for applications is 24.07.2019 (noon CET). Interviews are scheduled for 12 August 2019.

For further questions, please contact: martin.seeleib-kaiser@uni-tuebingen.de