

EBERHARD KARLS
UNIVERSITÄT
TÜBINGEN

Degree Manual
PEACE RESEARCH
AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS
(Friedensforschung und Internationale Politik)
Master of Arts (MA)

Valid from: Winter Semester 2024/25

FACULTY OF ECONOMICS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES
Department of Social Sciences
Institute of Political Science

Contents

1	Introduction	3
2	Qualification Objectives of the Programme	3
3	Target Group of the Programme	4
4	Entry Requirements	4
5	Study Plan	5
5.1	Overview of the Study Programme	5
5.1.1	Compulsory Modules of the Master Programme „Peace Research and International Relations“	5
5.1.2	Elective Modules of the Master Programme „Peace Research and International Relations“	6
5.1.3	Final Module of the Master Programme „Peace Research and International Relations“	8
5.2	Overview of the Recommended Study Plan	9
5.3	Overview of Course Assessment	11
6	Study Abroad	13
7	Internship	13
8	Description of Modules	14
8.1	Compulsory Modules of the Programme	14
8.2	Elective Modules of the Programme	22

1 Introduction

Name of the study programme:	Peace Research and International Relations (MAPIR)
Type:	Master of Arts (MA), consecutive degree programme
Start:	Enrolment is only possible at the beginning of the winter semester. The application deadline is 31 May of each year.

The Master's programme "Peace Research and International Relations" is one of the oldest MA programmes in the area of peace and conflict studies in Germany. In its original version, it has been offered in German since the winter semester 2004/05 and was accredited for the first time in the winter semester 2008/09. In an effort to further internationalise the degree programmes of the Institute of Political Science at the University of Tübingen, its language changed to English starting with the new student intake of 2021, and it has since attracted a genuinely international group of students from across the world.

MAPIR familiarizes students with major theoretical and empirical debates in International Relations and Peace Research. At the same time, students acquire the necessary methodological and critical tools to analyse the interdependencies of contemporary political processes within as well as between states. In particular, theory-guided case studies will help students to develop their analytical skills and to discuss solutions for global challenges such as sustainable multilateral cooperation, effective conflict mediation, human security and inclusive post-conflict peacebuilding. In addition to classroom teaching, MAPIR offers study trips, conflict simulations, lecture series as well as workshops with experts working for international organizations, NGOs, or think tanks.

MAPIR is open to university graduates with a first degree in Political Science or International Relations or related fields. Teaching language is English and English language proficiency at the B2/C1 level is a necessary requirement.

MAPIR is designed for students who are either preparing for an academic career in International Relations and Peace Research or for a professional career in governmental departments, the (I)NGO world, or the media. MAPIR Graduates found their way into leading positions in party organizations, the diplomatic service, research institutions or news corporations.

2 Qualification Objectives of the Programme

After successful completion of this Master's programme, students will be able to analyse complex problems of conflict, war and peace as well as of international relations broadly speaking. They will have acquired essential knowledge of essential theories and methods in this field, as well as the core empirical issues and their contexts. They will be able to apply this knowledge in the identification and analysis of novel problems of international politics, to independently develop theoretical ideas, and to critically evaluate policies addressing conflicts and other transnational issues.

The curriculum of the Master's programme builds on a strong theoretical-methodological orientation towards research-based learning, characterised by the application of theoretical knowledge to current case studies as well as the development of epistemological judgement and the practice of methodological skills. Lectures during the first year build the theoretical and conceptual foundation of the program and introduce students to core paradigms and controversies. Seminars and study trips provide ample opportunity to develop student's own interests and skills in relation to specific conflicts, policy areas, theories and/or methods. Students also acquire a range of transferable skills through diverse teaching and assessment methods, which include, among others, role play, simulations, scenario writing, and study trips in addition to more conventional methods such as essay writing, class presentations and discussions. These methods allow students to further develop their skills in presenting academic debates and enhancing professional attitudes. In addition, students acquire skills in teamwork, intercultural communication and the (self-)organisation of groups.

The contents of the programme and its didactic structure give students the opportunity to evaluate political events, processes, and structures normatively and the ability to engage reflexively with their own actions. The programme thus promotes the acquisition of specialist and interdisciplinary skills and contributes to the development of responsible community members.

The contents and teaching methods of the Master's programme are regularly reviewed and updated. In addition to the regular evaluations of the individual courses, Round Table Meetings, to which all MAPIR students are invited at least once per semester, provide the opportunity to voice criticism and feedback, and discuss issues related to the study programme with peers and lecturers. Besides colleagues and the teaching staff, students thus take responsibility for the programme and give lasting impulses for its continuous improvement.

3 Target Group of the Programme

The programme aims at university graduates with a first degree in Political Science, International Relations or related fields who intend to work in the research and policy of peace and international relations broadly speaking. This includes the areas of crisis prevention, conflict transformation, peacebuilding and global governance, which have significantly gained importance over the past decades. The programme offers a comprehensive qualification for a wide range of professional activities in administration and societal organisations, policy consulting and mediation, business and science at national and international level. Past graduates have built their careers in the diplomatic service, international as well as non-governmental organisations (NGOs; business), science and research, development cooperation and conflict management, the media and political education.

4 Entry Requirements

Admission to the Master's programme "Peace Research and International Relation" is open to students with a higher education entrance qualification who have passed the BA examination or an equivalent examination in Political Science, International Relations or a related subject with a grade of at least "good" (2.5, upper second class or equivalent). Successful applications are selected on the basis of their B.A. degree grade, internships or other professional activities of at least 6 months in a field related to peace research or international relations, as well as awards for academic or any other subject-related achievements.

Language Requirements

Successful completion of the Master’s programme “Peace Research and International Relations” presupposes a good working knowledge of English. Therefore, students have to provide proof of their knowledge of English at the level of B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. This is a minimum requirement. We recommend English knowledge at the level of C1.

Application Deadline

Applications must be submitted by 31 May (definitive deadline).

5 Study Plan

The standard duration of the MA programme “Peace Research and International Relation” is four semesters or two years with a total of 120 ECTS. Of these, 81 ECTS are acquired in compulsory modules M1-M4 and the final exam module M16 and 39 ECTS in elective modules. At least two of the elective modules M5 to M14 must be completed in full. Each module is completed by a final exam, which may take the form of a written or oral examination or study paper. The grade of each final module exam counts towards the final degree classification according to the allocated ECTS.

Module M15 is generally ungraded and students can be credited a maximum of 12 ECTS. Students may choose between internships, foreign language courses as well as seminars from the transdisciplinary course programme and other faculties. In addition, they may combine and mix categories (e.g. internship and foreign language course).

The MA thesis and the oral examination are weighted at a ratio of 3:1 and account for 40% of the final grade, whereas the average resulting from module exams accounts for 60% of the final grade.

5.1 Overview of the Study Programme

5.1.1 Compulsory Modules of the Master Programme „Peace Research and International Relations“

Module 1	Compulsory Module	15 ECTS
Basics I: Theoretical and Methodological Perspectives
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Compact seminar: „Peace and Conflict Studies“ (3) 2. Seminar: „International Relations Theories and Peace Research (4) 3. Seminar: „Methodological Challenges of Studying International Relations and Peace“ (4) 4. Module exam: Theory-based Research Design (4)

Module 2	Compulsory Module	12 ECTS
Basics II: Normative and Critical Perspectives
5. Lecture: „Discourses of Security“ (4)
6. Seminar: „Ethics in International Relations and Peace Research“ (4)
7. Module exam: Study paper or written exam (only related to lecture) (4)
Module 3	Compulsory Module	12 ECTS
Basics III: Global Governance I
8. Lecture: „International Institutions and Global Governance“ (4)
9. Seminar: „International Policy Analysis and World Society“ (4)
10. Module exam: Study paper or written exam (only related to lecture) (4)
Module 4	Compulsory Module	12 ECTS
Basics IV: Analysing Armed Conflicts
11. Lecture: „Analysing Armed Conflicts“ (4)
12. Seminar: „Domestic Armed Conflicts“ (4)
13. Module exam: Study paper or written exam (only related to lecture) (4)

5.1.2 Elective Modules of the Master Programme „Peace Research and International Relations“

Module 5	Elective Module	12 ECTS
Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management
14. Seminar: „Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management I“ (4)
15. Seminar: „Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management II“ (4)
16. Module exam: Study paper (4)
Module 6	Elective Module	12 ECTS
Global Governance II
17. Seminar: International Organisations and Policy Analysis I (4)
18. Seminar: International Organisations and Policy Analysis II (4)
19. Module exam: Study paper (4)

Module 7	Elective Module	12 ECTS
European Union
20. Seminar: „The EU in International Politics“ (4) 21. Seminar: „Security Institutions in Europe“ (4) 22. Module exam: Study paper (4)

Module 8	Elective Module	12 ECTS
Negotiation and Mediation
23. Seminar: „Negotiation and Mediation in International Conflicts“ (4) 24. Simulation: „Negotiation and Mediation“ (4) 25. Module exam: Study paper (4)

Module 9	Elective Module	12 ECTS
International Political Economy
26. Lecture: „International Political Economy“ (4) 27. Seminar: „Problems and Conflicts of the International Economic Governance“ (4) 28. Module exam: Study paper (4)

Module 10	Elective Module	12 ECTS
Development and Transformation
29. Seminar: „Analysis of Political Transformation“ (4) 30. Seminar: „Regional Developmental and Structural Problems“ (4) 31. Module exam: Study paper (4)

Module 11	Elective Module	12 ECTS
International Law and World Politics (offered in German)
32. Lecture: „Basic Principles of International Law (International Law I+II)“ (4) 33. Lecture/Seminar: „International Law III“ / „Fields of Application of International Law“ (4) 34. Module exam: Study paper (4)

Module 12	Elective Module	12 ECTS
Study Trip: International Organisations, Security and Conflict
35. Foundational Seminar (4) 36. Study trip (4) 37. Module exam: Reflection paper (4)

Module 13	Elective Module	6 ECTS
Peace Education
38. Seminar: „Peace Education and Global Learning“ (4) 39. Module exam: Study paper (2)

Module 14	Elective Module	6 ECTS
Perspectives on Methods and Methodologies
40. Compact seminar: „In-depth Study of Qualitative Methods“ (3) 41. Compact seminar: „In-depth Study of Quantitative Methods“ (3)

Module 15	Elective Module	12 ECTS
Professional Practice
42. Internship related to the study program * (up to 12 ECTS) 43. Foreign language courses (up to 12 ECTS) 44. Career-related courses (up to 8 ECTS)*
* Please consult the study program coordinator for approval before enrolment.

5.1.3 Final Module of the Master Programme „Peace Research and International Relations“

Module 16	Compulsory Module	30 ECTS
Final Examination
45. Colloquium (4 ECTS) 46. Oral Exam (2 ECTS) 47. Master Thesis (24 ECTS)

5.2 Overview of the Recommended Study Plan

Overview of study program: Modules per semester

Module	1 st Semester	2 nd Semester	3 rd Semester	4 th Semester
Compulsory Modules	M1 (15 ECTS)			M16 (30 ECTS)
		M2 (12 ECTS)
	M3 (12 ECTS): winter semester 8/ summer semester 4
	M4 (12 ECTS): winter semester 4/ summer semester 8
Elective Modules		M5 – M15 (6 – 12 ECTS)
		M5 – M15 (6 – 12 ECTS)
ECTS	31	26-32	27-32	30

Overview of study program: ECTS per semester and module

Nr.	Title of Module	ECTS per semester
		1	2	3	4	Σ
M1	Basics I: Theoretical and Methodological Perspectives	15				15
M2	Basics II: Normative and Critical Perspectives		12			12
M3	Basics III: Global Governance I	8	4			12
M4	Basics IV: Analysing Armed Conflicts	4	8			12
M5*	Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management		4	8		12
M6*	Global Governance II		4	8		12
M7*	European Union		4	8		12

M8*	Negotiation and Mediation		12			12
M9*	International Political Economy		4	8		12
M10*	Development and Transformation		8	4		12
M11*	International Law and World Politics		4	8		12
M12*	Study Trip: International Organisations, Security and Conflict		12			12
M13*	Peace Education			6		6
M14*	Perspectives on Methods and Methodologies		3	3		6
M15*	Professional Practice			12		12
M16	Final Examination				30	30
Σ						120

5.3 Overview of Course Assessment

Depending on the individual organisation of the study programme, between six and a maximum of eight exams must be completed in the Master's programme "Peace Research and International Relations". In addition, the Module 18 as the final exam is completed with the attendance of a colloquium, the Master's thesis and an oral exam. Students complete at least one module exam in the first semester (M1). Depending on how the students organise their programme and whether they are planning to study a semester abroad, two or three exam papers from the compulsory and elective modules are due in the first semester. In the second and third semester, two to three module exams are usually completed. In the fourth semester, students write their Master's thesis and attend their final oral exam.

		Course Assessment					Type of Teaching			total	Semester
		Grading System	Type of Exam	Type of Course Work	Duration	Weighting	SWS	Status	Type of Teaching		The assignment of exams to semesters is only a recommendation. Binding assignments are marked.
											1	2	3	4	5	6
										ECTS	ECTS	ECTS	ECTS	ECTS	ECTS
The assignment of ECTS to courses is for informative purposes only. ECTS are issued after the module has been completed.
Compulsory Modules
1	Theoretical and Methodological Perspectives					6	o	X		15
	Compact Seminar "Peace and Conflict Studies"	ng	--	p	t	0	2	o	S	3	3
	Seminar „Theories“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	o	S	4	4
	Seminar „Methods“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	o	S	4	4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	o	-	4	4
2	Normative and Critical Perspectives					4	o	X		12
	Lecture „Discourses of Security“	ng	--	e	--	0	2	o	L	4		4
	Seminar „Ethics and Peace“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	o	S	4		4
	Module exam	g	sp/we	--	--/90	100	-	o	-	4		4
3	Global Governance I					4	o	X		12
	Lecture „International Institutions and Global Governance	ng	--	e	--	0	2	o	L	4		4
	Seminar „IOs and Policy Analysis“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	o	S	4		4
	Module exam	g	sp/we	--	--/90	100	-	o	-	4		4
4	Analysing Armed Conflicts					4	o	X		12
	Lecture „Analysing Armed Conflicts“	ng	--	e	--	0	2	o	L	4	4
	Seminar „Domestic Armed Conflicts“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	o	S	4		4
	Module exam	g	sp/we	--	--/90	100	-	o	-	4		4
Elective Modules
5	Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management		X			0	f	X		0
						4	f	X		12

	Seminar: „Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management I“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Seminar: „Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management II“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4			4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	4			4
6	Global Governance II						4	f	⊗	12
	Seminar: IOs and Policy Analysis I	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Seminar: IOs and Policy Analysis II	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4			4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	4			4
7	European Union						4	f	⊗	12
	Seminar: „EU in International Relations“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4			4
	Seminar: „Security Institutions in Europe“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	4			4
8	Negotiation and Mediation						4	f	⊗	12
	Seminar „Negotiation and Mediation“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Simulation „Negotiation and Mediation“	ne	--	e	--	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	4		4
9	International Political Economy						4	f	⊗	12
	Lecture „International Political Economy“	ng	--	e	--	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Seminar „Problems and Conflicts of the International Economic Governance“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	4		4
10	Development and Transformation						4	f	⊗	12
	Seminar „Reg. Develop. and Struct. Problems“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4		4
	Seminar „Analysis of Political Transformation“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4			4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	4			4
11	International Law and World Politics						6	f	⊗	12
	Lecture: „Basic Principles of International Law (International Law I+II)“	ng	--	e	--	0	2	f	L	4		4
	Lecture / Seminar „ International Law III“ / „ Fields of Application of International Law“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	L/S	4			4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	4			4
12	Study Trip						7	f	⊗	12
	Foundational seminar	ng	--	e	--	0	4	f	L	4		4
	Study trip	ng	--	p	t	0	3	f	S	4			4
	Module exam	g	r	--	--	100	-	f	-	4			4
13	Peace Education						2	f	⊗	6
	Seminar „Peace Education & Global Learning“	ng	--	p	t	0	2	f	S	4			4
	Module exam	g	sp	--	--	100	-	f	-	2			2
14	Perspectives on Methods and Methodologies						2	f	⊗	6
	Compact seminar „In-depth Study of Qualit. Methods“	ng	--	p	t	0	1	f	-	3		3
	Compact seminar „In-depth Study of Quant. Methods“	ng	--	p	t	0	1	f	-	3		3
15	Professional Practice						-	f	⊗	12
	Internship related to the study program	ne	--	r	--	0	-	f	-	0-12
	Foreign Language courses	ne	--	we	t	0	t	f	-	0-12
	Career-related courses	ne	--	t	t	0	2	f	-	0-8
16	Final Examination						2	o	⊗	30
	Colloquium	ne	--	p	t	0	2	o	S	4				4
	Oral Exam	g	oe	--	45	25	0	o	-	2				2
	Master Thesis	g	mt	--	--	75	0	o	-	24				2		4

Key
Grading System:	g = graded; ng = not graded (passed/not passed) ne = no exam
Type of Exam:	We = Written Exam; oe = Oral Exam; sp = Study paper; p = Presentation, e = Essay(s); r = Report; mt = master thesis; t = as announced in the course outline
Duration:	Duration of exam in min
Weighting:	For Courses = Weighting of the exam grade for the module grade For Modules = Weighting of the module grade for the final grade
SWS:	Semester Periods per Week
Status:	o = obligatory; f = facultative
Type of Teaching:	L=Lecture; S=Seminar; T=Tutorial, etc.
ECTS:	European Credit Transfer System (Amount of credits)
t.b.a.	To be announced

6 Study Abroad

The University of Tübingen as well as the Institute of Political Science offer a variety of opportunities to study one or two semesters abroad. Therefore, students profit from the world-wide cooperation agreements.

Students are advised to study in the 3rd semester abroad. After completing the compulsory modules at the end of the second semester, students can then concentrate on the elective modules which increases the possibility of attending relevant courses at the host university. In addition, students are able to include a study program related internship abroad according to the regulation in modules M15. After their return to Tübingen University, students can continue with their final exam module M16 in the last semester.

7 Internship

Students are recommended to attend a study program-related internship in Germany or abroad. An internship provides an extended and practical insight into different fields of professional practice. It offers an important orientation for students' career choices at an early stage during their studies. Students are advised to plan internships either for the semester break and/or after completion of the first academic year. It is possible to apply for a semester of leave.

Certificates of eligibility of internships can be obtained from the Study Programme Coordinator. Information on internships is available at the Institute's Internship Coordinator.

8 Description of Modules

8.1 Compulsory Modules of the Programme

Number of Module: 1	Title of Module: Basics I: Theoretical and Methodological Perspectives		Type of Module: Compulsory
ECTS-Points*	15
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 450 h	Contact Time: 90 h / 6 SWS	Self-Study: 360 h
Duration of Module*	One semester
Frequency of Offer*	Winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/ Learning*	Seminar (6 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module introduces students to the normative, theoretical and methodological foundations of analysing questions related to peace and conflict / international politics. For this purpose, students discuss central concepts and theories and finally draft a research design as module exam.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know the history of the peace research / IR, its central questions as well as the most important theories. • Students can define, apply and critically compare a variety of concepts of peace and know how to assess and evaluate such concepts. • Students are able to critically reflect on the normative foundations of peace and conflict research / IR as well as know how to identify and evaluate the normativity of specific policies. • Students can identify and distinguish between metatheoretical problems and are able to assess and cope with them. • Students can model reflexive research questions and know how to work on those questions in a theory-driven and methodically informed way. • Students can autonomously organize working processes and are able to work cooperatively.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Peace and Conflict Studies	S	O	2	3	presentation	t	ng	--
	International Relations Theories and Peace Study	S	O	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Methodological Challenges of Studying International Relations and Peace	S	O	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam: theory-based research design		O		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 1 st semester
Requirements for Participation*	None

Number of Module: 2	Title of Module: Basis II: Normative and Critical Perspectives		Type of Module: Compulsory
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Winter and summer semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Lecture (2 SWS), Seminar (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module introduces students to the different conceptualisations of security and their historical and academic evolution. It introduces students to critical debates on security and its policies and politics as well as to the normative and ethical challenges of international relations. Students finalize the module with either a written exam after the lecture or a study paper after the seminar.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know key concepts of security and global ethics, policies and politics and are able to reconstruct the evolution and state of research. • Students are able to reflect security concepts and assess their scope, as well as to identify ethical and normative challenges. • Students can distinguish and evaluate policies and politics by applying normative perspectives.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Discourses of Security	L	O	2	4	essay	--	ng	--
	Ethics in International Relations and Peace Research	S	O	2	4	presen- tation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		O		4	study paper or writ- ten exam (L)	--/ 90	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 1 st and 2 nd Semester
Requirements for Participation *	None

Number of Module: 3	Title of Module: Basis III: Global Governance I		Type of Module: Compulsory
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Winter and summer semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Lecture (2 SWS), Seminar (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module introduces students to the analysis of international institutions in a theoretical as well as empirical perspective. It provides students with an overview of the development of international governance.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know and can apply different research approaches to the study of international institutions and global governance. • Students can identify different forms of global governance, explain how they emerged, analyse their effects and critically assess their legitimacy. • Students can develop and apply theory-based and methodologically informed analysis. • Students are able to model and compare international institutions and institutional changes.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	International Institutions and Global Governance	L	O	2	4	essay	--	ng	--
	International Organisations and Policy Analysis	S	O	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		O		4	study paper or written exam (L)	--/ 90	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 1 st and 2 nd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	None

Number of Module: 4	Title of Module: Basis IV: Analysing Armed Conflicts		Type of Module: Compulsory
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Winter and summer semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/ Learning*	Lecture (2 SWS), Seminar (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module provides an overview of approaches to analysing armed conflicts at the international and national level. The lecture focuses on the presentation and discussion of key theoretical approaches that address the causes, dynamics, and resolution of armed conflicts. The seminar focuses on the merits of different analytical models based on case-study evaluation.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know the histories and sociologies of transforming armed conflicts and their political and societal impact, with particular reference to the 20th and 21st centuries. • Students can identify and apply key approaches for the analysis of armed conflicts on an international and a national level. • Students are able to critically compare different approaches and can systematically describe, analyze, compare and explain armed conflicts.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Analysing Armed Conflicts	L	O	2	4	essay	--	ng	--
	Domestic Armed Conflicts	S	O	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		O		4	study paper or written exam (L)	--/90	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 1 st and 2 nd Semester
Requirements for Participation *	None

8.2 Elective Modules of the Programme

Number of Module: 5	Title of Module: Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/ Learning*	Seminar (4 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module focuses on conflict cycles, including the causes of a conflict, its dynamics, and if possible, its management, resolution and transformation. Dynamics of violent escalation, how to prevent violence and how to establish conditions for a peaceful transformation of conflicts are key questions that are addressed in this module.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know different approaches and tools of conflict management and can evaluate them based on conditions of applicability and success. • Students can develop and apply a conflict analysis, and model crisis prevention and conflict transformation strategies for different actors, and finally evaluate them based on scope conditions. • Students are able to identify escalation processes and describe de-escalation potentials for specific conflicts. • Students can explain the causes and dynamics of violent conflicts in a theoretically and methodologically informed way. • The students know various models of peace and are able to analyse and evaluate transformation processes.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management I	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Conflict Analysis and Conflict Management II	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		F		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd and 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation *	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 6	Title of Module: Global Governance II		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Seminar (4 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module deepens students' knowledge of global governance in a variety of policy fields.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know various theories of conflict transformation and can identify key practice of international conflict transformation in different policy fields. • Students can systematically describe, analyse global policies and know how to apply theories and methods therefore. • Students can compare and evaluate developments in various fields of international politics and are able to assess the role of political, economic and social actors.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	International Organisations and Policy Analysis I	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	International Organisations and Policy Analysis II	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		F		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd and 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation *	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 7	Title of Module: European Union		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Seminar (4 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	This module offers insights on the European integration process and its effect on an international society. The main question which is addressed in this module refers to what extent the European institutions can contribute to peace. Accordingly, the role of the European Union (EU) in international politics and its transformative power is studied.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know key actors, policies and structure of the EU and other international organisations in Europe. • Students are able to assess the ability of the EU and other international organisations to foster peace, both internally and externally. They can identify threats to peace and security and are able to formulate policy recommendations. • Students can explain why the institutions and organisations perform differently and understand the different outcomes of integration processes. • Students are able to systematically describe, analyse and evaluate the policies of international institutions and organisations, in particular the EU.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	The EU in International Politics	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Security Institutions in Europe	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		F		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd and 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation *	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 8	Title of Module: Negotiation and Mediation		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	One semester
Frequency of Offer*	Summer semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/ Learning*	Seminar (2 SWS), Simulation (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module focuses on approaches to transforming conflicts, in particular negotiation and mediation. It introduces students to comparative analyses of the conditions for success and causes of failure of mediation and negotiations. In addition, a negotiation and mediation process is simulated by a role play where students actively experience and participate in a fictional mediation.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students are able to analyse conflicts and can develop strategies for action for different conflict parties. • Students know the state of research on negotiation and mediations and can apply theories and methods to specific case studies. • Students are able to model, apply and evaluate mediation strategies and practices based on a simulation game / role play. • Students are able to communicate in an intercultural context and are able to critically evaluate their performance.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Negotiation and Mediation in International Conflicts	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Negotiation and Mediation	simulation	F	2	4	essay	--	ng	--
	Module exam		F		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 9	Title of Module: International Political Economy		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/ Learning*	Lecture (2 SWS), Seminar (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module offers students an overview of global and European political economy. Since the 1980s, globalization and (European) integration have significantly changed economic policies at a supranational as well as national level. In addition, students are introduced to the variety of actors, institutions and practices of economic governance and discuss the efficiency as well as legitimacy of contemporary forms of economic governance.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know key actors, structures, and policies of international political economy. • Students are able to analyse and assess the conditions for and possibilities of economic policies in the European multi-level system. • Students are able to evaluate European political economies, including the performance of actors and institutions, based on their efficiency and legitimacy.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	International Political Economy	L	F	2	4	essay	--	ng	--
	Problems and Conflicts of the International Economic Governance	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		F		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd and 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 10	Title of Module: Development and Transformation		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Seminar (4 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module introduces students to a variety of political, social and economic developments and transformations in non-European regions. Key issues are the causes of intra- and inter-societal conflicts, a comparative perspective on conflicts in Europe and beyond, as well as the international and global impact of (regional) conflicts.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know the concepts and theories in development and transformation research and can evaluate their scope. • Students can systematically describe, analyse and explain the conflictual nature of development and transformation processes based on (comparative) cases studies. • Students are able to critically reflect different strategies for dealing with the conflictual nature of development and transformation processes and can formulate recommendations.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Analysis of Political Transformation	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Regional Developmental and Structural Problems	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		F		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd and 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 11	Title of Module: International Law and World Politics		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	German
Forms of Teaching/ Learning*	Lecture / Seminar (4 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module introduces students to the discourses and practices of international law. Its development, key approaches and legal problems are addressed. Additionally, contemporary challenges to international law are discussed, including Humanitarian Law, Human Rights, International Organizations and International Courts.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know basic concepts and doctrines of international law. • Students can identify specific problems and challenges of international law. • Students are able to assess the conflict management potential of international law.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Basic Principles of International Law (International Law I+II)	L	F	2	4	essay	--	ng	--
	International Law III / Fields of Application of International Law	L/S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	---
	Module exam		F		4	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd and 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 12	Title of Module: Study Trip: International Organisations, Security and Conflict		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 300 h
Duration of Module*	One semester
Frequency of Offer*	Summer or Winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Seminar (2 SWS), Study trip (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. For seminars, these include: presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.
Content of Module*	This module allows students to experience the operation of conflicts and international organisations of peace and security first-hand through a study trip involving site visits and exchanges with a range of practitioners. Typical study trips have included National Model United Nations, EU Security Institutions, Peace Boat and Cyprus. Participants must attend a foundational seminar as part of the module before joining the study trip.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students understand the workings of an international organization or non-governmental organization in the field of peace and security or of a specific violent conflict. • Students are able to explain and assess policies of the organization or related to the conflict. • Students review and reflect on their own position in relation to the organization, its policy field or the respective conflict. • Students improve their skills in discussing issues with practitioners and in diplomatic communication. • Students are able to contextualise the development of policies towards peace and security.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Foundational Seminar	S	F	2	4	essay	--	ng	--
	Study Trip	St	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		F		4	reflection paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd or 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 13	Title of Module: Peace Education		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	6
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 180 h	Contact Time: 30 h / 2 SWS	Self-Study: 150 h
Duration of Module*	One semester
Frequency of Offer*	Winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Seminar (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module addresses the theoretical foundation of modern peace education and evaluates its effectiveness based on selected case studies. Students are introduced to a variety of tools and measures to prevent and contain violence. Peace education encompasses the discourses and practices of individual as well as societal actors who share the normative goal of a non-violent approach to conflict resolution.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know key approaches to peace education and are able to critically assess these approaches. • Students are able to model and design specific educational projects and are able to critically reflect their effectiveness. • Students know key actors and organisations in the field of peace education.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Peace Education and Global Learning	S	F	2	4	presentation	t	ng	--
	Module exam		F		2	study paper	--	g	100
Applicability*	MA PIR, 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 14	Title of Module: Perspectives on Methods and Methodologies		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	6
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 180 h	Contact Time: 60 h / 4 SWS	Self-Study: 120 h
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Compact seminars (4 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module enhances students' knowledge of quantitative and qualitative methods in international politics. The theoretical foundations of descriptive and inferential statistics, linear regression and logistic regression as well as process tracing, discourse analysis, content analysis and QCA will be discussed.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students know a variety of quantitative and qualitative methods. • Students are able to apply different methods for analysing data. • Students can critically evaluate the appropriateness, efficiency and scope conditions of different methods.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	In-depth Study of Qualitative Methods	S	F	2	3	presentation	--	ng	--
	In-depth Study of Quantitative Methods	S	F	2	3	presentation	--	ng	--
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd or 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

Number of Module: 15	Title of Module: Professional Practice		Type of Module: Elective
ECTS-Points*	12
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 360 h	Contact Time: variable	Self-Study: variable
Duration of Module*	Two semesters
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/Learning*	Internship, Seminars
Content of Module*	The module deals with basic skills and specialised knowledge related to future professional activities. It includes study programme related internships in Germany and abroad as well as foreign language courses. In addition, seminars from the transdisciplinary course programme and other faculties closely connect theoretical, interdisciplinary and practical sites and increase students' qualification for national and international job markets.
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students are able to effectively work in international and interdisciplinary context. • Students are able to professionally communicate in different languages. • Students can autonomously organize work processes and are able to critically evaluate their own performances. • Students can apply theories and methods to study war, conflict, peace, cooperation and integration in a professional working context. • Students are able to reflect their academic knowledge in relation to professional practices and are able to identify their role in society. • Students can identify challenges of interdisciplinary cooperation and are able to compare and combine approaches and perspectives.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Internship related to study programme	--	F	--	0-12	report	--	ng	--
	Foreign language courses	--	F	variable	0-12	written exam	t	ng	--
	Career-related courses	--	F	variable	0-8	t	--	ng	--
Applicability*	MA PIR, 2 nd and 3 rd Semester
Requirements for Participation*	Completion of Module 1

8.3. Compulsory Module: Final exam

Number of Module: 16	Title of Module: Final Exam		Type of Module: Compulsory
ECTS-Points*	30
Amount of Work*	Amount of Work: 900 h	Contact Time: 30 h / 2 SWS	Self-Study: 870 h
Duration of Module*	One semester
Frequency of Offer*	Summer and winter semester
Language	English
Forms of Teaching/ Learning*	Seminar (2 SWS) Teaching and learning practices are systematically assessed and adapted to the qualification goals and the in-class situation. (For lectures, they can include: frontal teaching, think-pair share, quizzes, fish bowls, question and marble sessions; for seminars, etc: Presentation, text work, essay, think-pair-share, simulation, jigsaw puzzle, group work, role play, peer group information, poster creation, feedback, learning diary, card search, flashlight, American debate and many more.)
Content of Module*	The module consists of a colloquium, an oral exam, and the Master's thesis. The maximum length of the Master's thesis is 25.000 words (without cover page, content, references and appendix).
Qualification Objectives*	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students are able to systematically analyse international politics and can therefore identify, model and apply appropriate theories and methods to do so. They can develop their own research designs. • Students can present and communicate their research projects in writing and orally. • Students are able to critically reflect the theoretical, methodological and practical limits of peace research and international relations.

Course assessment / credit points (weighted if applicable)*	Title	Type of Teaching	Status	SWS	ECTS	Course Assessment (graded / non-graded work)	Duration of Exam (in min)	Grading System	Weighting of Grade
	Colloquium	S	O	2	4	presentation	--	ng	--
	Module exam	-	O	-	2	oral exam	45	g	25%
		-	O	-	24	Master Thesis	--	g	75%
Applicability*	MA PIR, 4 th Semester
Requirements for Participation *	Completion of Modules 1-4 and two Elective Modules (from M5-M14)								