Zoom Etiquette:

We kindly ask you to respect the following rules during the symposium:

- Please join early—up to 5 minutes before the meeting start time.
- If you have not used Zoom before, it might be a good idea to download Zoom prior to the day of the meeting to familiarize yourself with any features you may need to use on the day, such as mute/unmute microphone, stop/start video, etc. Alternatively, you can also join the meeting through Zoom's browser client.

- When you join the Zoom meeting, you will be put automatically into the waiting room until the host(s) accept you to the meeting. This should not take long.
- If you are not listed above, it is imperative that you write to: kssc2020@koreanistik.uni-tuebingen.de with your name and affiliation, so that we may expect and accept you into the Zoom meeting.
- Please enter your actual name when joining; please do not use a made-up name. This will help us to monitor that only legitimate (registered) participants will be added to the webinar from the waiting room.
- Please switch off your microphone when the presentation starts, but we ask you to leave your video on, as there are only a few of us. But, of course, it is not compulsory to switch on the video.
- If you have switched on your video and microphone, please remember that you can be seen and heard by all participants.
- During Q&As and discussions, you are invited to ask questions by clicking on the “raise your hand” button at the bottom of the sidebar. Alternatively, you can make short comments by using the chat function. Please wait for the moderator to call your name before speaking.
- Recording will not be allowed at any time during the symposium.
- We are aware that you might encounter connection problems. Unfortunately, we cannot do much to prevent or fix this situation, but in such cases, feel free to inform the host and leave the meeting and try re-entering. Switching off your camera also might help with an unstable connection.
- If you encounter internet connection problems, you can join the meeting by calling one of Zoom's telephone numbers according to your country (the toll and toll-free number for each country can be found on the Zoom website). You will then be told to input the meeting ID and password.
