

Research Seminar in Economics
Program of the Winter Term 2022/2023

- Nov 08    Edouard Challe, European University Institute
Inequality and Optimal Exchange-Rate Policy (joint with Sushant Archaya)
- Nov 15    Husnu Dalgic, University of Mannheim
Sterilized FX Interventions: Benefits and Risks (joint with Santiago Camara and Lawrence Christiano)
- Nov 22    Martin Wolf, University of St. Gallen
Monetary Policy in the Age of Automation (joint with Luca Fornaro)
- Nov 29    Dario Tortarolo, University of Nottingham
Five Facts About (Modern) Price Controls
- Dec 06    Farzad Saidi, University of Bonn
Feasible Stimulus and Constrained Monetary Policy
- Dec 13    Paolo Piacquadio, University of St. Gallen
The Inequality Toolbox
- Dec 20    Martin Schneider, Stanford University
Money and banking in New Keynesian model
- Jan 10    Maximilian Kasy, University of Oxford
Adaptive maximization of social welfare in theory and practice
- Jan 17    Claudia Steinwender, LMU Munich
All aboard: The effects of port development
- Jan 24    Martin Spindler, University of Hamburg
Double Machine Learning: An Introduction and Application to High-dimensional Additive Models
- Jan 31    Thiess Büttner, FAU Nürnberg
Income Tax Credits for Consumer Services: A Tool for Tackling VAT Evasion?
- Feb 7      Axelle Ferriere, Paris School of Economics
On the Optimal Design of Transfers and Income-Tax Progressivity