

Versio latina

Actors, Objectives, and Functions of Translating Early Modern Literature into Latin

The new project is financed by the DFG in the context of Priority Program 2130 "Early Modern Translation Cultures (1450-1800)"(Speaker: Prof. Dr. Regina Toepper). In the coming three years, it aims to investigate translations from vernacular source texts into Latin. With this, Latin will be the focus not as the source but target language, and Neo-Latin translations will be at the center of our research.

Overall, the project intends to (1) analyze the cultural functions and economic objectives of versio latina, (2) describe these specific complex early modern translation processes which are influenced by their multiple references, and ultimately (3) increase awareness of the 'forgotten Latinity' of vernacular literature, which was of central importance for the internationalization of the early modern literary industry and its commerce.
