

EBERHARD KARLS
UNIVERSITÄT
TÜBINGEN

25 & 26/10/2014

READING MANUSCRIPTS FROM KERALA: MALAYALAM & GRANTHA

- Venue: Dept. of Indology, Gartenstr. 19, 72074 Tuebingen
- Time: 25 & 26/10/2014, daily 10-13 and 15-17 h
- Requirements: reading capability of the modern Malayalam script
- Fees: no fees, participation is free

This practical workshop on Indian manuscripts in handwritings from Kerala with focus on Malayalam and Grantha scripts is conducted by P.L. Shaji, an expert from the Manuscripts Library of the Kerala University, Thiruvananthapuram. It is jointly organised by the Dept. of Indology and the University Library.

P.L. Shaji is going to instruct interested students, graduates, post-graduates as well as librarians about the peculiarities of working with and reading of Indian manuscripts. Having a good stock of handwritings on different materials like palm-leaf or birch-bark in several Indian scripts in our library we even can work with originals.

*For further information and registration please contact:
Dr. des. Elena Mucciarelli <elena.mucciarelli@uni-tuebingen.de>*

Faculty of Humanities
Institute of Asian and Oriental Studies
Department of Indology and Comparative Religion & University Library

