

What is CIVIS?

CIVIS is a European University Alliance of 11 public universities, working together to create a shared inter-university campus.

About the 2025 Call for Educational Activities

CIVIS currently invites proposal to the 2025 CIVIS Call for Educational Activities under three strands:

- (1) Joint Bachelor, Master or Doctoral Programmes
- (2) Modular Short-Term Training
- (3) Stacking of Modular Learning Units

Why your evaluation matters

CIVIS relies on independent peer reviews to select the most promising and relevant proposals. As an evaluator, you help ensure that proposals are realistic, sound, of high quality and in line with the call's objectives.

Who can be evaluator?

- Academic staff at the University of Tübingen
- With experience in teaching, programme coordination, or curriculum design

- With interest in contributing collegially and constructively to the further development of new educational formats
- Experience with modular formats like micro-credentials, joint supervision, COIL, or blended learning is particularly useful

What does it involve?

- Review at least one proposal between October and December
- Use the predefined set of 8–9 evaluation criteria (scoring + short comments) defined in the call
- Join a short online consensus meeting with the other reviewers
- Receive a formal CIVIS certificate of participation
