

Tübingen International & European Studies (T-IES) · Winter School 2027

STUDY TRACK A

Classroom: 063, Neue Aula

“Europe, Memory, and Diversity”

The course delves into the political processes entailed in remembering and forgetting, introduces students to the commemorative landscape of the EU and explores possible solutions to the challenges facing European collective memory or what could be called Europe's culture of remembrance. Sessions will deal with what makes us remember some things while other facets of our lives and historical events are suppressed or hard to recollect. How does what we remember (and what we - choose to - forget) structure the reality that we live in - symbolically, physically, and politically? How is the past used (or abused) to serve the present needs of individuals and collectives in Europe today, where different concepts of identity oftentimes clash with the reality of cosmopolitan communities that are both ethnically and culturally diverse.

Course: “Europe as a Memoryland: Selective Memory and Place-Making Practices” (Lana Balorda)

STUDY TRACK B

Classroom: 225, Neue Aula

“Human Rights in Europe: Common Goals and Current Challenges”

The past years have seen the EU facing a lot of criticism from various sides and a plethora of challenges threaten the community - internally and externally - and what held its societies together for a long time. In this program, students examine the fundamental notions at the heart of what Europe stands for: pluralism, democracy, subsidiarity, and the rule of law. Furthermore, courses cover the current challenges Europe and the EU face today: the rise of nationalism; political fragmentation and radicalization; migration, religion and questions of identity and war.

Course: “The Struggle for Human Rights in Europe” (Dr. Germana Favognano)

STUDY TRACK C

Classroom: Tba.

“Sustainability, Biodiversity, and Ethics in Europe”

Against the backdrop of the increasing threat that various environmental hazards pose to modern societies, this study track's courses deal with two main questions: what constitutes good societies and their healthy relationship with the environment (with nature) in Europe in the 21st century and how can we protect our communities from breaking apart due to increasing environmental pressure? Classes introduce concepts and ideas that can inspire civic engagement at the local level, using beekeeping and the biodiversity of freshwater ecosystems as case studies. Discussions will focus on how to achieve different forms of more sustainable and inclusive relationships that bolster both strong human communities and a better climate.

Course: “Sustaining the Source: Ecology, Water, and Sustainability” (Dr. Matthias Stoll)
