Call for applications: funding of a student assistent for habilitation candidates with children

sumer semester 2027

Dear colleagues,

The compatibility of an academic career and a family is an important concern of the Equal Opportunities Commision of the Faculty of Humanities. To support parents during their habilitation, the Equal Opportunities Commission provides funds for student assistants. Junior academics can thus be relieved of time-consuming tasks and enjoy greater flexibility for their research and family responsibilities.

Applicants must be academic staff with a child/children within the University of Tübingen's Faculty of Humanities. They must be in the habilitation phase, and will normally have fixed-term contracts. They participate in childcare at least as much as their partner. Special consideration is given to single parents.

The deadline for applications is 10 January 20276. The start of the funding is the 1 April 2027, for a term of 6 months. Follow-up applications are possible if you have already been funded once and want to extend an assistant position.

Student assistants can be undergraduates or graduates (studentische, wissenschaftliche Hilfskräfte), but the funding is based on the cost of an undergraduate student assistant (at 4 hours per week).

Application
Applications should be addressed to the Equal Opportunities Officer and should include the following documents:

- completed and signed form
- short curriculum vitae
- copy of birth certificate(s) of children,
- proof of employment at the university.

All documents will be treated confidentially. I am available for any further questions.

With kind regards,

Wiebke Meinhold
